

Charles Emmett Mercer
World War I
By Julian Mercer

Charles served in World War I at Fort Keogh near Miles city in Montana. Fort Keogh was a Quartermaster Post where they broke horses for the army. He was discharged in 1919.

In the group photograph, Charles is the one on the left end.

He was born in American Fork, but married a Lehi girl, Geneve Evans daughter of Lillian Mary Yates and Hyrum Jones Evans. The family lived in the gardens until they bought grandpa William Yates old home on the corner of 100 East and 200 North.
